Nina Raine's Tiger Country is a hospital play that follows a tangle of doctors and nurses in a busy London hospital - from the award-winning author of Tribes. Professionalism and prejudice, turbulent staff romances, ambition and failure collide in this swirling, action-packed drama about an overburdened health service that we all depend on and the dedicated individuals that keep it going. 'Tiger country' is where animal instinct stirs and an irrefutable eye opens. Where we make eye contact with the unknown. Tiger Country was premiered at Hampstead Theatre in 2011 and, following its sell-out run, was revived there in 2014.

The word "Tole" of Tole Painting comes from the French language, and refers to tin goods decorated with painted pictures. Born in Europe, this custom was brought by immigrants to America, where it became a popular craft in everyday life. Nowadays, it includes not only tin goods but also furniture, wooden objects, pottery, glass, cloth, canvas - in other words, any material that might be decorated and used in everyday life. The collection of works in this book includes examples by thirteen local artists and five overseas artists, all with very different lifestyles and interests. More than 140 works are included, exhibiting all the qualities of Tole Painting without sacrifice to the simplicity and warmth of the craft. The individual styles, expert brushwork and creative coloring of these talented artists will not fail to draw the readers into the charming world of Tole Painting.
