The Things of Others: Ethnographies, Histories, and Other Artefacts deals with the things mainly, but not only, mobilized by anthropologists in order to produce knowledge about the African American, the Afro-Brazilian and the Afro-Cuban during the 1930s.

This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue "Sustainable Agriculture-Beyond Organic Farming" that was published in Sustainability

Known for much of the nineteenth century as "the ever-faithful isle," Cuba did not earn its independence from Spain until 1898, long after most American colonies had achieved emancipation from European rule. In this groundbreaking history, David Sartorius explores the relationship between political allegiance and race in nineteenth-century Cuba. Challenging assumptions that loyalty to the Spanish empire was the exclusive province of the white Cuban elite, he examines the free and enslaved people of African descent who actively supported colonialism. By claiming loyalty, many black and mulatto Cubans attained some degree of social mobility, legal freedom, and political inclusion in a world where hierarchy and inequality were the fundamental lineaments of colonial subjectivity. Sartorius explores Cuba's battlefields, plantations, and meeting halls to consider the goals and limits of loyalty. In the process, he makes a bold call for fresh perspectives on imperial ideologies of race and on the rich political history of the African diaspora.

A landmark in Lascasian scholarship: the work of seventeen scholars, contributions span the fields of history, Latin American studies, literary criticism, philosophy and theology.

Wildland fires are becoming one of the most critical environmental factors affecting a wide range of ecosystems worldwide. In Mediterranean ecosystems (including also South-Africa, California, parts of Chile and Australia), wildland fires are recurrent phenomena every summer, following the seasonal drought. As a result of changes in traditional land use practices, and the impact of recent climate warming, fires have more negative impacts in the last years, threatening lives, socio-economic and ecological values. The book describes the ecological context of fires in the Mediterranean ecosystems, and provides methods to observe fire danger conditions and fire impacts using Earth Observation and Geographic Information System technologies.

America has always been a composite of racially blended peoples, never a purely white Anglo-Protestant nation. The Mexican American historian Neil Foley offers a sweeping view of the evolution of Mexican America, from a colonial outpost on Mexico's northern frontier to a twenty-first-century people integral to the nation they have helped build.

Formerly 'Automotive Brake Systems'. 2nd Edition. Safety is very important in vehicle design and operation. Driving-Safety Systems is the new edition of what was formerly titled 'Automotive Brake Systems'. The title has been changed to reflect the addition of information on recent technological advancements in safety systems beyond braking systems such as traction control systems (TCS) and electronic stability control (ESP). Ideal for engineers, technicians and enthusiasts, this book offers a wide range of detailed and easy-to-understand descriptions of the most important control systems and components. A new section on electronic stability has been added, and sections on driving physics, braking systems basics and braking systems for passenger cars and commercial vehicles have been updated. Contents include: Driving Safety in the Vehicle Basics of Driving Physics Braking-System Basics Braking Systems for Passenger Cars Commercial Vehicles - Basic Concepts, Systems and Diagrams Compressed Air Equipment Symbols Equipment for Commercial Vehicles Brake Testing Electronic Stability Program ESP.
